Biography

Business and legal issues that must be attended to are always changing. New ideas on structure of projects and the ever evolving tax implications require solid competent legal counsel which we provide.

Attention to detail and advanced preparations are always good business concepts. The future is filled with new regulations, rules, procedures and both risks and rewards so there has never been a more appropriate time for solid competent legal counsel. In the past several years, if nothing else, those of us in the areas touched by financial issues have learned the value of thoughtful and practical experienced legal advice. That is what our Firm, our team and I can do to help you and your business. We actively assist banks, private and public, officers, directors, and shareholders in issues from regulatory compliances, dispute resolution, deal structures, bankruptcy issues and related matters. We are also experienced in medicare billing, audit, and financial resolution procedures. We are a project and results oriented Firm that works with imagination and attention to detail.

If you want practical, experienced legal advice, we are here for you.
